Reconstituted veneer is an environmentally friendly alternative to some of the more rare and expensive exotic wood species. It is also a great option for those projects where veneer color and consistency is critical from start to finish. Made with fast growing renewable natural wood sources, reconstituted veneer is produced by laminating different colors of dyed veneer in alternating layers. This process produces natural looking wood grains and colors thought only to exist in nature.

Some species in the reconstituted line require a 5 to 7 day lead time before they ship. Some reconstituted species are available in the 4 x 10 size. Please call to check availability. Reconstituted veneer does not necessarily look the same from different manufacturers. Color and grain appearance can differ significantly from manufacturer to manufacturer. In addition to our stock reconstituted veneer selection we also offer reconstituted veneer from other manufacturers and have the capability to match any recon. veneer sample.
